

Finish this Mad Lib by choosing words that follow the clues under each blank. (Remember an adjective describes something, like a happy puppy. An adverb describes a verb. It tells us how something is done. (A lot of times an adverb can end in 'ly'.)

Have fun making your Mad Lib!!!

A SNOWY CHRISTMAS EVE

On Christmas Eve, Aristotle was _____ busy spreading snow all over the _____.
Adverb Place

His best friend, Burgoo, was supposed to meet him in _____ to exchange _____, so
Amount of time Plural noun (things)

Aristotle decided he had better head towards home. As Aristotle _____ in the sky, he Action verb (past tense)

noticed something almost hidden beneath the snow. He thought he heard a _____ sound and decided to investigate. As Aristotle moved towards the sound, he found a little girl that could be no older than _____ years old. Not knowing what to say, Aristotle asked, " _____
Adjective

Number Question

_____?" When the little girl looked up and saw a cloud talking to her, she _____ and Action verb (past tense)

started to cry. Answering slowly, she told Aristotle she had gotten lost while playing in the
_____. It was starting to get dark and the girl looked even more scared. Since Aristotle did Noun (thing)

his traveling in the sky, the little girl would not be able to follow him. Burgoo would be wondering where he was, but Aristotle could not leave the _____ little girl behind. He had to come up with a plan. Then Aristotle had an idea! He would lead her home using his _____. After all, he is a _____ cloud. Returning to the sky, Aristotle began to snow and the girl followed his path. Soon
Adjective

Noun (thing)

Adjective

they arrived at a cozy _____ with its lights all aglow. The little girl _____ inside before Noun (place) Action verb (past tense) she stopped and remembered to thank Aristotle. When she turned around to say "Thank You," the sky was empty and the cloud was gone. However, in the _____ night she heard a voice say, Adjective

"Merry Christmas to all and a _____ Snow Day!"
Adjective

www.skytalking.org

